The Sardine Run in South Africa, one of the world's largest marine migrations! Every year from May to July, huge shoals of sardines leave their usual cool habitat in the temperate seas of South Africa and head for the subtropical waters along the Wild Coast of South Africa. Accompanying the shoals are seabirds, sharks (blacktips, duskies, bronze whalers, etc.), dolphins, and whales. They all have one goal: the sardines. Gannets dive from the air, without regard for losses, into the water. Dolphins and sharks rush into the shoal and enjoy a delicious meal. Walter Bernardis, an absolute shark expert, will accompany us as skipper and provide us with competent advice and information. Don't miss this natural spectacle and unique opportunity under any circumstances. We look forward to experiencing an unforgettable adventure with you.

We always say „GO, GO, GO“, we never say “NO”!
