Everything at one view

- 1. International Guests/Participants: Valued firefighters from all over the world meet at the Sardinian Heat Symposium. This diverse group of professionals brings a wealth of experience and offers a unique opportunity for intercultural learning and collaboration.
- 2. Sharing skills and experience: The symposium will include interactive workshops, panel discussions and hands-on training. Participants will have the opportunity to share their best practices, innovative approaches and experiences in wildland firefighting. This exchange of knowledge and experience will contribute to the development of more effective strategies for fighting wildfires.
- 3. Wildfire Medical Training: Recognizing the critical role of emergency medicine in wildland firefighting, the symposium will include specific training courses focusing on medical procedures and protocols in fire emergencies. This training equips firefighters with the skills they need to provide immediate medical assistance in challenging environments.
- 4. 22nd Wild Life Association: The Sardinian Heat Symposium is organized by 22nd Wild Life, a renowned Swiss NGO dedicated to nature conservation and environmental protection. By supporting this event, sponsors have the opportunity to align their brand with an organization committed to making a positive impact on our natural environment.
