ZEITUNG FÜR D

HERAUSGEGEBEN VON GERALD BRAUNBERG

Wien: Sind immer bereit für Notbremse

Wien. Der österreichische Gesundheitsminister Rudolf Anschober (Grüne) hat sich besorgt geäußert über die Corona-Lage in seinem Land. „Die Prognosen sind nicht gut“, sagte Anschober im Gespräch mit der F.A.Z. Die Situation ähnele der Lage im vergangenen Herbst, kurz bevor die Infektionszahlen stark stiegen – „mit zwei positiven Unterschieden: Jetzt wird das Wetter wärmer, und wir sind dabei zu impfen. Bis Ostern müssen wir durchhalten, dann wird es leichter.“ Anschober begründete die Lockerungen der Corona-Regeln mit der schwindenden Akzeptanz in der Bevölkerung. Manche würden den Weg „nicht mehr mitgehen“. Man verbinde Öffnungen mit umfassenden Corona-Tests und sei bereit, „jederzeit die Notbremse zu ziehen“. In Deutschland gab es zum Start der kostenlosen Corona-Schnelltests am Montag vielerorts noch Engpässe. Apotheker-Landesverbände etwa in Bayern oder Brandenburg verwiesen darauf, dass sie noch auf die geänderte Corona-Testverordnung des Bundes warteten und bis dahin nicht testen könnten. In Thüringen konnten Arztpraxen nach Angaben der Kassenzentralen Vereinigung aus demselben Grund noch keine kostenlosen Tests anbieten. (Siehe Seite 4 sowie Wirtschaft, Seiten 16 und 20.)
