note on itinerary

The detailed itinerary for our Costa Rica trip serves as a guideline. Since this trip has an expedition character, the daily programs and procedures can change due to weather conditions, animal behavior, local conditions or unforeseen events. Our local partner, the Paradise Lodge, and NiCe Dive & Trips as the tour operator reserve the right to adjust the itinerary in order to offer you the best possible and safest travel experience. Flexibility is an important part of this trip. All activities are dependent on weather conditions, availability, local regulations, and environmental protection requirements. The expedition plan, the dives & dive sites as well as the described activities are discussed daily by our partners and the tour guide and, if necessary, adjusted to meet the needs of the group and the current circumstances. Please note that the described itinerary is based on careful planning and the information available to us at the time of preparation in January 2024. Changes due to new findings, changes in nature, official requirements or restrictions, as well as currently unforeseeable changes in the law are possible and do not constitute a reason for cancellation or price reduction. We thank you for your understanding and look forward to offering you an unforgettable adventure in Costa Rica!

In the event of any price increases by the government, the right is reserved to adjust fees and surcharge
