IN FOCUS

In Focus brings together a group of artists whose work reflects the dynamics of contemporary art, characterized by the fusion and hybridization of styles. In this exhibition, the boundaries between traditional art, abstraction, and realism blur, creating a space where visual languages coexist and enrich one another.

Contemporary art, in its diversity, not only mirrors the chaos and complexity of today's world but also seeks to rescue a transformative beauty. As the poet Rainer Maria Rilke once said: "Beauty is not only what dazzles us, but what becomes a part of us, what transforms us and takes us beyond what we once knew." In this sense, In Focus is an invitation to see art through a new lens, to discover beauty in the multiplicity of perspectives, and to explore how, through fusion, art remains a powerful medium for reflection and transformation.

This exhibition celebrates the plurality of voices and styles in contemporary art, a reminder that even in fragmentation, art continues to be a profound reflection of our shared humanity.

Our galleries are located in cities where Art is a main part of the most varied artistic scenes in the world.

NEW YORK

New York is considered the art capital of the world due to its concentration of renowned cultural institutions such as the Met and MoMA, its large number of art galleries, its crucial role in the art market with auction houses such as Sotheby's and Christie's, and a vibrant and diverse arts scene. The city also has a rich tradition in art movements and offers prestigious art educational institutions. In addition, it hosts important events and art fairs, consolidating its global status in the art world.

BERLIN

Berlin is currently at the forefront of the world's art scene working as an axis of contemporary creativity and production. Berlin is the city where new dynamics of current art are unleashed and future aesthetics are established. Located in the thriving neighborhood of Friedrichshain, the nerve center of Berlin's Art District.

MIAMI

Allapattah is an emerging and trendy neighborhood in Miami with a rich cultural ecosystem. It is also a renowned artistic haunt since the opening of two major museums: the Rubell Museum (2019), which houses the largest private contemporary art collection in the United States, and Superblue (2021), which presents digital and immersive works of art.

This small district borders Wynwood and it was influenced by its earliest residents who immigrated from Cuba, Central America and Dominican Republic. The neighbourhood boasts a range of popular restaurants, such as Papo Llega y Pon and Laguna Seafood Restaurant. Art has propelled the neighborhood to evolve into the popular destination it is today.

BUENOS AIRES

In the last 50 years, Buenos Aires has developed its cultural infrastructure, rising to a level that few cities on the continent have managed to achieve. Thanks to a large number of museums and cultural institutions, shaping a new urban image that was accompanied by important social regeneration operations.
